Information about data processing

The collection of personal data is carried out in compliance with the regulations of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). The University of Freiburg (info@uni-freiburg.de) is responsible for data processing. You can reach the data protection officer at daten-schutzbeauftragter@uni-freiburg.de.

The purpose of the data processing is to prevent the spread of the coronavirus, to exercise domiciliary rights or to prosecute/penalize an administrative offense. The legal basis for data processing is Art. 6 para. 1 lit. c in connection with para. 3 GDPR in conjunction with. §§ 6 para. 1, 10, 11 No. 2 Corona Ordinance study operation in conjunction with. § 73 para. 1a Nr. 24 Infection Protection Act. Recipients of the data within the university are the employees who require the data to fulfill their official duties. Furthermore, the University reserves the right to report any violation to the responsible regulatory office and to forward the data accordingly.

The data will only be processed or stored by the University for as long as it is necessary for the aforementioned purposes, unless longer storage or retention is necessary for the defense, assertion or exercise of legal claims or is required by law. Your rights under the GDPR are: Right to data information, right to data correction, right to data deletion, right to restriction of processing, right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority.

Ban of entry:

The above-mentioned person will be banned from all university buildings for the day of the violation due to violation of § 6 para. 1 sentence 1 CoronaVO Study Operations (participation in attendance events in closed rooms without proof of vaccination, recovery or testing). If the above-mentioned person presents one of the above-mentioned proofs to one of the control persons of the university in the further course of the day, the ban of entry will be lifted.
