Deviation from the specific examination type at the request of the student in Bachelor’s, Master’s, Magister and teaching degree programs

Due to the Corona epidemic, the University of Freiburg allows deviation from the specified type of examination/type of academic performance upon application by the student under the conditions regulated in § 4a paragraph 1 of the Corona Statutes.

The application must be submitted to the responsible examination board no later than the start of the examination. The application must be printed out, completed in block letters and signed by hand. It must be submitted to the responsible office by mail or as a scan/photo by e-mail. It must be ensured that the document is complete and legible.

There is no right to conduct the examination in a different examination type or in a different examination format. Exceptions apply only if the rejection of the request would mean exceptional hardship for the student.

Please note the information according to Art. 13 and 14 General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) for conducting online examinations under video supervision and for the use of the video conferencing system ZOOM at the University of Freiburg. These are stored on the Corona information page of the University of Freiburg under the information sheets designated in the category “study and teaching.”
